Call for applications for Audio recording and Video deals

Number of artists: 20

Target Districts: Amolatar, Apac, Kole, Kwanja, and Oyam

Description

Lango Indigenous HipHop has partnered with City Beats Records - Apac, a recording studio located in Apac district and managed by a renowned producer, 2 years Pelare. This partnership is an opportunity for 20 young creatives (aged 20 – 30), who have at least a background in music and arts and with a strong motivation and interest in the music industry. The opportunity targets the artists in Amolatar, Apac, Kole, Kwanja and Oyam districts to record songs at no cost. This partnership is open to all the indigenous practitioners of all genres of music and will provide the selected artists the access to modern recording studio to produce songs that are educative to the wider community of the Lango sub region. This partnership is an opportunity for the 20 selected young creatives to record and promote their music for free, create a strong listenership and bridge the marketability gap in the industry.

Lango Indigenous Hip-Hop is a foundation that strives to build a generation of youths making the most of Hip-Hop as a cultural tool to educate, motivate and to lead our people and facilitating youth and community development. Lango Indigenous Hip Hop have been working extensively in the communities of the Lango Sub region and specializing in long intensive projects in Dance, Music, Film, Art and Culture. In collaboration with various organisations and companies, Lango Indigenous Hip-Hop has implemented indigenous Hip-Hop projects including; Let's Talk youth programme, Rap contests, Remix conferences, Skills for Youths, Hip-Hop and Agriculture and many activities during the past Hip-Hop Appreciation Weeks.

Lango Indigenous Hip-Hop therefore invites interested individuals from the selected districts of the Lango Sub region to apply for the recording deals. Upon completion of the recording deal and receipt of the final products (Audio and Video), the participating artists will be integrated as part of the alumni network of participants of the Indigenous Hip-Hop programmes and will be engaged in the future community projects conducted by Lango Indigenous Hip Hop. In the end, participants are expected to take the knowledge back to their communities and operate independently or as collaborators amongst themselves as change makers in their own communities.

The benefits to the selected artists:

- The participants will have an opportunity to record one song plus a video for free
- The artists will benefit from the expertise in the studio as the producer will be available to offer advice and produce best quality sound
- The artists will have access to excellent recording equipment and microphones
- An experience of an ambient recording environment as the studio has acoustically treated rooms designed to enhance performance
- Promotion of the artist's song will be an additional benefit as the two partners will be responsible for disseminating content on all social media platforms and electronic media.
- The participating artists will be integrated as part of the alumni network of participants of the Indigenous Hip-Hop programmes and will be engaged in the future community projects conducted by Lango Indigenous Hip Hop.
